Dear friends and colleagues,

It is a great pleasure and honor for me to invite you for the tenth anniversary of our Italian French Symposium, which will take place in September 2024. Since the first edition, there has been many changes and evolution in our field both from the surgical and oncological perspectives. After the pandemic slowdown, our community has prompted a flourishing activity and we are now back on track, with cutting edge technology, artificial intelligence, and advancements in molecular oncological therapies.

It is time to sit down and discuss these achievements between experts, colleagues, and friends. I am thereby inviting you to actively participate and discuss different issues on digestive oncologic surgery.

Also, i hope you could have a great time in our magnificent and ancient city.

Looking forward to meeting you all,

G.M. Ettorre
